1. ELISHA CAPRON

- b. about 1765,¹ prob. Norton, Bristol Co., MA,² prob. son of Banfield and Hannah (Tucker) Capron of Norton.³
- d. 8 April 1845, Springwater, Livingston Co., NY; buried Christian Church Cemetery, Springwater.⁴
- m. 1) 10 Jan. 1791, Norton, HANNAH WHITE,⁵ dau. of Abraham and Hannah (White) White;⁶ d about 1801, prob. Chester twp., Windsor Co., VT;⁷ 2) about 1801, ABIGAIL F__,⁸ b. 12 Feb. 1771; d. 12 May 1837, Springwater; buried Christian Church Cemetery.⁹

On 17 March 1781 Elisha Capron at the age of 16 or 17 enlisted into the Continental Army for a period of three years. At that time his residence was given as Norton, Massachusetts, and he was described as follows: stature, 5 feet 5 or 6 inches; complexion, light; hair, light; occupation, farmer (also listed as a laborer). He joined Capt. Jonathan Felt's Company, Lieut. Col. John Brook's t^h Massachusetts Regiment and served until 1 December 1783 when he was discharged at West Point.¹⁰ In May of 1781 he received a wound when he "was in a scirmish with the Enemy near Kings bridge in the State of New York."¹¹ Orson Walbridge in his history of Springwater states that Elisha "was a soldier in the revolution and a pensioner from bullet wounds which he received and had the marks to show. He was very patriotic and liked to talk over the old campaigns as well as

² Norton is where Elisha enlisted in the army at age 16, where he witnessed a will in 1789, where he married in 1791 (of Norton), where he registered the birth of his first child in 1793 and where he was included in the 1798 tax census. In all likelihood this is where he was born.

⁷ Hannah Capron was alive when her father wrote his will 29 April 1800 but presumably had died by Sept. 1801. Elisha's second wife gave birth to their first child in VT in June of 1801. Hannah's place of death is speculation. Elisha bought land in VT 26 April 1800 but was included in the Bristol Co., MA (Norton) federal census of 1800. It seems clear that at some point during the year of 1800 or 1801 he, with his family, moved to Chester, VT, and it's likely that Hannah died there. She is not buried with her parents in the Abraham White Cemetery in Norton.

⁸ A book in the possession of Theodore Parrish Capron of Wayland, NY has in Elisha's handwriting, "Abigil F. Capron" (the middle initial is difficult to decipher).

any of the soldiers of the late rebellion do at the present time."¹² A Bill was enacted by Congress 3 March 1811 to grant monthly stipends to invalid Revolutionary War pensioners pursuant to the act of 10 April 1806. Elisha Capron's name was included in this Bill as follows: "Elisha Capron, at the rate of two dollars and fifty cents per month, to commence on the 1st day of Jany 1810,"¹³ and as of 1 June 1813 he was continuing to receive $30 a year.¹⁴ In the Report of the Secretary of War of 28 March 1818, Elisha was among the list of invalid pensioners belonging to the state of Vermont and paid at Bennington, receiving $48 per year.¹⁵ He wasn't placed on the pension roll in New York until 23 April 1819, and in filling out pension papers again in 1820, he seemed less than candid concerning the details of his life. He seemingly advanced his age by ten years giving it as 64 and claimed that his family consisted of his wife, a son Sylvester who was an invalid and unable to perform any labor and a daughter Sarah, age 12.¹⁶ By all accounts Sylvester wasn't an invalid, and a look at the 1820 census points to the probability that Elisha's sons Lewis R. and Elisha Jr., 16 and 23 respectively, and his daughter Clarissa, age 18, were a part of his household.¹⁷ He continued receiving a pension, and in the 1840 census is listed as a pensioner, age 74, in the household of Sylvester Capron.¹⁸

There is no known record of Elisha from the time of his discharge in late 1783 until the signing of the will of Mary Hodges of Norton, 21 April 1789. Elisha, Seth Smith Jun. and Hannah White (probably his future wife's mother) witnessed Mary's signature on that date. At the time of probate on 1 July 1800, Elisha and Hannah appeared before the probate judge to acknowledge their signatures.¹⁹ After his marriage and the birth of his first child, Elisha appears in one other Massachusetts record prior to 1800, the tax census for 1798, where he is an occupant of a house in Norton owned by George Leonard, which included 29 acres with a value of about $600.²⁰

On 26 April 1800 Elisha bought for $350 a 50-acre tract of land with a log house in the township of Chester, Windsor County, Vermont.²¹ He had a mortgage, which he had paid off by the end of June 1803,²² and on 6 February 1806, Elisha Capron, Husbandman, sold this property for $400 to Willing Heald.²³ He held the mortgage on the property until February of 1808, at which time he assigned it to Hugh Henry of Chester.²⁴ There is no known record of a further land purchase by Elisha in Vermont or in New York state. The move to Vermont may have been prompted by members of his wife's family settling in Chester and Springfield, a neighboring township, at about the same time.²⁵ Since pension records indicate that Elisha was collecting his payment in Bennington County, Vermont, it seems likely that the family moved from Windsor County sometime after 1810 and perhaps as late as June of 1813 when Elisha's daughter Nancy was married in Springfield.²⁶

Elisha must have arrived in Springwater in late 1818 or early 1819, when he was enrolled on the Ontario County pension list (Springwater was part of Ontario County until 1821). The Capron family established itself on East Hill in Springwater, and the cemetery where Elisha, Abigail, their son Lewis and some of his family are buried is located on "the hill."

Elisha was fairly consistent with regards to occupation and apparently followed farming as a way of life. He described himself as a farmer in his 1820 pension application, claiming no land, but owning one cow and calf; one two-year-old heifer; one sow and four hogs; two pots, one spider and one kettle worth $3; one damaged kettle and one axe worth $2; one old axe and four old chairs worth $2; and two old chests. His total worth was estimated at $37.²⁷ He continued living and farming on Springwater's East Hill until his death in 1845.

CAROLINE L. TOWNSEND JENKS, widow of Knight Jenks.⁷⁸ b. Aug. 1821, Canada;⁷⁹ d. 1905, prob. Wyoming Co., NY; buried Mountain Ash Cemetery, Covington, Wyoming Co., NY.⁸⁰

On 21 April 1840 Sylvester and Lewis Capron bought 50 acres of land adjacent to 100 acres Lewis had purchased in 1833.⁸¹ This 1840 acquisition of land was the first of at least a dozen transactions by Sylvester in the town of Springwater. On 26 April 1850 he bought 50 acres from Jabez P. Powers and his wife, which apparently included a house.⁸² On 9 May 1850 Sheffield Peabody wrote in his diary, "Sylvester Capron has moved in the valley. He bought 50 acres for 50 dollars an acre."⁸³ This was Sylvester's permanent move off "the hill" and into the Springwater valley, and in 1855 he added 46 ½ acres to the original 1850 purchase.⁸⁴ This same 96 ½ acres was sold by Sylvester's heirs shortly after his death and in 1932 became the property of Len and Jean Withington and is presently owned by a Withington descendant.⁸

In 1870 Sylvester valued his real estate at $6500 and his personal estate at $1000.⁸⁶ According to census figures the year before his death he had 190 acres, with 20 of those acres under cultivation, producing winter wheat, oats, Indian corn and potatoes. He harvested 100 bushels of fruit from his orchard, made three barrels of cider, had three milk cows, two swine, two horses and poultry.⁸⁷ Ten years earlier Sylvester had raised sheep and produced 100 pounds of wool.⁸⁸

Sylvester met his death when he and his sister Clarissa, in a covered carriage with Sylvester driving, failed to hear or see an approaching train at the Buffalo Street crossing, which lies about one and a half miles north of Wayland in the town of Springwater. The carriage was struck by the locomotive, instantly killing Sylvester and his sister.⁸⁹

SAMUEL L. WHITLOCK, b. 29 Jan. 1838, Liberty Pole, town of Springwater, son of Ira and Amelia (Stuart) Whitlock; d. 18 Sept. 1923; buried Mount Vernon Evergreen Cemetery.⁹⁴ No children. Almira graduated from Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Lima, New York and was active in school, church and other community activities. She was a teacher and superintendent of Sabbath-school at the Methodist Episcopal Church of Springwater. Samuel graduated from Genesee Wesleyan Seminary and Genesee College in Lima and became an educator, teaching school and eventually becoming the acting President of Arcadia College in Iron County, Missouri. He returned to Springwater and helped to establish the Allen & Whitlock mercantile business in 1873. In 1884 he was an active member of the Board of Trustees for Springwater village schools and in 1893 was elected School Commissioner of the Second District of Livingston County.⁹⁵ The Allen & Whitlock store was destroyed by fire in 1909,⁹⁶ apparently accidentally set by Samuel when he placed an oil lamp too close to crepe paper Christmas decorations.⁹⁷ According to Reid Robinson, "Mrs. Whitlock and Mrs. Allen were upstairs when the fire started. They were saved by jumping from the porch into blanket [sic] held by several men. The store was rebuilt in 1914. The frame and other parts of the new structure were erected from the abandoned Christian Church building which stood on the northeast corner of the Wheaton Hill Road and the Canadice Road. Allen and Whitlock operated the store until 1917."⁹⁸

proprietor of J. R. Capron & Co., a grocery store in Sheffield township, Warren County.¹⁹⁷

John R. Capron enrolled at Eva, Pennsylvania as a private 1 September 1864 in Company E of the 11th Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry and was honorably discharged at Winchester, Virginia 2 July 1865. He was described in his pension papers as being 5 feet 7 ½ inches in height with brown hair and blue eyes.¹⁹⁸

After leaving Pennsylvania John and his family resided in Gilman, Iroquois County, Illinois where he was engaged in watch repairing and other light work due to bouts of rheumatism and kidney disease. By 1886 they were in Argentine, Kansas, near Kansas City, where he was in the grocery business, which failed within a year, and he became totally disabled. In the mid 1890's they moved to Seward, Logan County, Territory of Oklahoma seeking a better climate with the hope of John's recovering his health.¹⁹⁹

Charles Sedgwick was a musician and music teacher in Dansville, and according to Hermon DeLong was fond of hunting and fishing. DeLong says, "Some of my earliest experiences, and the most delightful in that line, were expeditions taken with him in his rig to Conesus and Honeoye lakes after ducks. These trips were usually without great results, but what of that? They were charming, and my companion had such a fund of anecdote and incident that the outing always seemed only too short."²⁵⁶

Wilbur Capron attended Genesee Wesleyan Seminary in Lima for two years and at various times, farmed, was in the dry goods business and operated flour mills before becoming a produce dealer in Wayland in 1866.²⁶⁵ He became a partner with Thomas M. Fowler, running the produce business known as Capron & Fowler for nineteen years. In 1885 the New York and New Jersey Produce Company was developed and continued in operation until some years after Wilbur's death.²⁶⁶ In 1895 he was appointed port warden of the port of New York by Governor Morton and held that office at the time of his death.²⁶⁷

Alfred Stanley was a businessman in Rock Falls, Illinois. He attended the public schools in Naperville and the Naperville Seminary, and at an early age he managed the family farm there. Eventually he worked for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, and upon moving to Rock Falls he became the manager of a coffin factory and later opened his own grocery store in a building which he erected. He was active in community affairs, serving as village trustee, president of the school board and supervisor.³²⁶
